

Making Headlines

Not every college has an aerospace design team that impresses NASA. Stevens has two. Students from the mechanical engineering department at Stevens Institute of Technology's Charles V. Schaefer School of Engineering and Science are advancing to the next round of NASA's Revolutionary Aerospace Systems Concepts Academic Linkage \(RASC-AL\) Forum. RASC-AL is a collegiate aerospace design competition where students create solutions to real problems in space exploration.

A conversation with...Dean Ken Nilsen

Are you or were you a student here? If so, undergraduate or graduate? If not, where did you go to school? What did you study?

No, I attended Wagner College and earned a BA in Sociology and New York University and earned an MA in Higher Education Leadership.

Do you or did you work here? If so, in what capacity?

Yes, I am the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs, Dean of Student Life and now Dean of Students.

Because you gave...Daniel Pallone '18

Daniel Pallone '18 is a quantitative finance major and mathematics master's candidate. In 2016, he received the Stevens Alumni Association Legacy Term Scholarship, which is awarded annually to eligible, full-time undergraduate students with either a parent or grandparent who received a degree at Stevens, who are in good academic standing, and who have a proven record of commitment to and participation in the Stevens Community, with a leadership position preferred.

Affinities

As the Stevens Dramatic Society Alumni Affinity Club (DSAAC) nears its one-year anniversary, we will be holding a reception prior to the SDS production of Stephen Sondheim and James Lapine's "Into the Woods." Join us in Jacobus Lounge at 6pm on April 8th for finger food and refreshments, and then head over to DeBaun to see the show! If you have any questions or are interested in becoming a member of DSAAC, please email us at DSAAC@alumni.stevens.edu.
